Join the Greater Columbia Chamber of Commerce for Business After Hours!

Business After Hours is an innovative way to meet people outside your industry and share information with business people who have interests similar to yours. During Business After Hours, you can meet new Chamber members, catch up with old friends and learn tips from other business people. All of these benefits can be yours in an informal environment timed perfectly so it doesn't interrupt your workday. Admission is free to all Chamber members and their employees with a business card, no RSVP necessary.
